IX INTERNATIONAL SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE Economic Sciences for Agribusiness and Rural Economy

under the theme:

Agri-Food Sector Competitiveness in European Union Countries

Conference Aims and Objectives

The Institute of Economics and Finance at the Warsaw University of Life Sciences (WULS–SGGW) is pleased to announce the ninth edition of the annual International Scientific Conference Economic Sciences for Agribusiness and Rural Economy (ESARE), which provides a distinguished forum for the exchange of research findings and discussion of contemporary economic issues among scholars and practitioners from Poland and abroad. The main theme of this year's conference is "Agri-Food Sector Competitiveness in the European Union Countries".

Scope of the Conference

- ◆ Obstacles and opportunities in boosting agri-food sector competitiveness
- ◆ Competitiveness determinants in agriculture and food enterprises
- ◆ Innovation and science in agri-food economic development
- ◆ EU agri-environmental and climate policy and its impact on agribusiness competitiveness
- ◆ Competitiveness of the agri-food sector in the context of globalisation and international integration processes

Publication Opportunities

Authors will have the opportunity to publish post-conference articles in the journals of the Institute of Economics and Finance, including Acta Scientiarum Polonorum. Oeconomia, Problems of World Agriculture, European Policies, Finance and Marketing, Journal of Tourism and Regional Development, Economics and Organization of Logistics, and Quantitative Methods in Economics, subject to the fulfilment of editorial requirements.
